The colour of a rosé wine, pale pink and elegant. Expressive and aromatically intense. Fruity, with notes of gooseberry, cherry and strawberry. It is balanced on the palate, where the fruity sensation dominates. Excellent harmony between volume and acidity.

HARVEST YEAR

A warmer winter that was a little drier than normal. Spring was warm and dry. The cycle started in the middle of March, with flowering at the end of May. Summer with temperatures above normal and little rain. Harvest started in early September with above-normal rainfall.

WINEMAKER: António Braga

VARIETIES:

70% Baga, 10% Touriga Nacional, 10% Shiraz, 10% Merlot

WINEMAKING

Prepared exclusively from red grape varieties (Baga, Touriga Nacional and others) and fermented off skin. Very light crushing and pressing allow for the extraction and selection of a slightly pink must, which is then clarified until the desired level of clarity is achieved. The alcoholic fermentation process then took place with a controlled temperature of 14°C-16°C.

MATURATION

After fermentation, maturation on fine lees allows this wine to reach the required quality for bottling. Bottling preceded by fining, cold treatment and sterilising filtration.

STORE

It must be consumed young, preferably in the year following harvest. The bottle should be stored in a cool place protected from light. Kept in the best conditions, this wine will evolve positively for a minimum of 3 years.

SERVE

Serve between 8°C-10°C, in wide-bowl glasses.

ENJOY

Ideally served with light gastronomy dishes such as salads, ensuring a connection with the exotic flavours of Asian food.
